Northern California – The Council of Multiple Listing Services (CMLS), the professional trade organization that serves the Multiple Listing Services industry, announced at their annual industry conference, that Dave Howe, vice president of Client Success & Compliance for MetroList Services, Inc., has been elected Chair of the CMLS Board of Directors. Howe will assume his position in January 2021.

The Council of Multiple Listing Services (CMLS) is an association of over 200 MLSs committed to high standards of professionalism and performance. The CMLS is a leader in defining practices to improve MLS operations and leadership, advance policies to promote innovation, and convene gatherings like the annual conference to foster growth.

“I am very honored to have been selected by my industry peers to serve as chair of the CMLS Board of Directors,” said Howe. “The CMLS is an invaluable resource to MLSs across the United States and with my passion for our industry, I will continue to build upon the great work CMLS has achieved in building a better marketplace for our member organizations.”

“As we see the industry continue to transform, the MLS community will need to demonstrate remarkable flexibility, deliberate action, and incredible clarity. The CMLS board of directors is a strategically focused group of leaders who are ready and willing to lead our members in creating new opportunities that build a better marketplace,” said Denee Evans, CEO of CMLS.

The board also includes business partner directors comprised of representatives from companies and organizations that work with MLS organizations. MLS directors are elected by the general membership. Election results were announced during CMLS2020, which is the industry's annual conference and for the first-time held in a virtual environment.

Dave Howe has served most of his professional career in the MLS industry in Northern California. During his career, Howe has been part of the exciting and ever evolving industry from the days when the MLS printed a weekly book listing homes for sale to today when technology has advanced the sharing of MLS data among tens of thousands of real estate professionals across the country.

Dave Howe lives in Placer County with his wife Mary Ann and has two adult children.
